ApartmentData.com Makes its Debut on the 2017 Inc. 5000 List of U.S. Fastest-Growing Private Companies

HOUSTON (Aug. 16, 2017) - ApartmentData.com, a leading marketing and information supplier to the multifamily industry, has been named to the 2017 Inc. 5000 list of Fastest-Growing Private Companies in the U.S.

ApartmentData.com earned the rank of 4,610 on the prestigious list just three years after being purchased by private equity firm Salt Creek Capital, Menlo Park, CA. The 31-year-old company's revenues grew 22 percent between 2015 and 2016.

"Every employee has worked hard to propel ApartmentData.com into this impressive growth achievement," said CEO Rudy Mui. "We have been active in Texas for decades and have more recently focused on serving new customers in Atlanta and now Phoenix. We have ambitious plans to become a national supplier. Being named one of America's fastest-growing private companies is a tremendous honor and a necessary first step in achieving this goal."

Each year for 36 years, Inc. has recognized the fastest-growing private companies in America. Companies that made the list, on average, have grown six-fold since 2013, according to Inc.

As an Inc. 5000 honoree, ApartmentData.com now shares a pedigree with Intuit, Zappos, Under Armour, Microsoft, GoPro, Timberland, Clif Bar, Patagonia, Oracle, Box, Grubhub, and dozens of other alumni that have gone on to become household names.

ApartmentData.com's customers include national property management firms, brokers, investment companies, builders and construction companies, apartment locators, and vendors to the multifamily industry.

Companies named to the list will be recognized at a celebration event at the Inc. 5000 Conference and Gala Oct. 10–12 in Palm Springs, CA.
